Objectives

1. Describe the Academy’s current public policy and advocacy initiatives in relationship to the Academy’s new strategic plan

2. Associate the importance of member advocacy to the advancement of the dietetics profession in the areas of health promotion, disease prevention and treatment, and jobs for RDNs

3. Identify how individual members can create public policy change through advocacy and storytelling with their state and federal legislators

4. Understand how ANDPAC contributions support and strengthen relationships with policymakers

5. Participate in grassroots advocacy campaigns by completing action alerts, developing relationships with members of Congress, and donating to ANDPAC.

Targeted Policy Priorities

Three Focus Areas:
1) Prevention and Well-being
2) Health Care and Health Systems
3) Food and Nutrition Safety and Security

Successful Public Policies:
• Create jobs
• Improve health of Americans
• Support the economy and workforce
Policy Initiatives

Federal

• Increase access to nutrition services
  • Expand MNT coverage and reimbursement
    – Prevention and treatment of chronic disease
• Strengthen food and nutrition programs; optimize funding
• Demonstrate the link between food and agriculture and the importance of a safe and robust food system

State

• Expand State Advocacy
  • Medicaid, malnutrition and consumer protection
  • Increase access to nutrition services and qualified practitioners across all settings
Nutrition Policy at Work!

Federal Nutrition Programs are Public Health Programs

Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act (IDEA)
• Early Childhood Intervention

Child Nutrition Reauthorization
• Women, Infant and Children (WIC)
• National School Lunch (NSLP) and Breakfast Programs (NSBP)
• Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP)

Farm Bill Reauthorization
• SNAP, SNAP-Education (SNAP-Ed)
• Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations (FDPIR)

Older Americans Act
• Congregate Dining
• Home delivered meals
Advocating to Policymakers

• Respond to Action Alerts
• Attend events in DC and back home
  • PPW Hill visits
  • Academy Quarterly Advocacy Days
  • In-district events (e.g., town halls, forums)
    – Request ANDPAC funds to attend candidate events
• Become a trusted resource through in-person and online communication
  • e.g., follow up after Hill visit, email staff with new report on your program or alert them to new health-related data
• Use social media effectively
Telling the Story of Our Work

• A good story is compelling, factual, and significant
  • should be specific to your policymaker's community and/or district

• Help policymakers understand the impact of a policy
  • Identify an individual or family impacted
  • e.g., SNAP-Ed helped this family make healthier choices within a limited budget, which helped mom better manage her diabetes over time

• Share these stories with your affiliate or DPG policy leaders so they can use them with policymakers
ANDPAC Makes it Count

ANDPAC Contributions Open The Door & Help Build Relationships

Academy member contributions to ANDPAC support candidates for federal congressional office who align with the Academy’s mission, vision, and public policy priorities.

ANDPAC works together with the Academy to open doors to build and strengthen relationships in shaping legislation.

Grassroots Advocacy

Our initiatives are designed to influence policymakers through the mobilization of local support and/or opposition

Such initiatives involve:

1. Learning policy issues
2. Getting to know your elected officials
3. Getting your message out
1. Learning Policy Issues Affecting the Profession

• Read and review each issue of the Academy’s Eat Right Weekly

• Stay abreast of current issues by visiting the Academy’s advocacy webpage:
  https://eatrightpro.org/advocacy

• Attend policy educational sessions at:

  • Your affiliate association’s annual conference, and/or your affiliate Legislative or Advocacy Day;

  • Policy sessions at FNCE; and/or

  • The Academy’s Nutrition & Dietetics Advocacy Summit
2. Getting to Know Your Elected Officials

- Identify your elected officials
  - https://www.eatrightpro.org/advocacy/take-action/action-center

- Follow your legislators on social media (Facebook, Twitter)

- Attend their Town Hall Meetings and other networking opportunities
3. Getting Your Message Out

• Respond to Action Alerts sent to you via emails by the Academy, your affiliate association, and/or your DPG
  • Take Action! https://www.eatrightpro.org/advocacy/take-action/action-center

• Participate with your affiliate’s Public Policy Team in visiting legislators on Capital Hill and/or at their district offices

• Offer your input on regulatory comments to Affiliate or DPG
